

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Harvest decorations that will include fruits and vegetables will be seen at the Methodist church Sunday morning, following a Thanksgiving time custom that has been followed for several years. The decorations and fruits sent in today Saturday for use in these decorations are to be sent to the Deacons home at Providence.

A considerable number of Danielson couples motored down to Plainfield Friday evening to attend a private dance at the Community house, the local people finding the affair delightful.

The second in the series of entertainments in the course to be provided by the local post of the American Legion, the fall and winter season delighted the audience that gathered at the theatre. The Imperial instrumentalists and Miss Emily Taylor, soprano, were featured.

A holiday schedule of hours will be in effect at the post office Thanksgiving day. There will be the usual limited delivery service of mail and the rural routes in this territory will not be covered.

Rev. John L. Findley of Worcester, pastor of the city one of the largest congregational churches in New England, is to preach at the Thanksgiving Sunday service at the Congregational church here tomorrow morning.

William Ballard, Brookline, who was injured with Sidney R. Bard two weeks ago, is improving at his home at Brookline and is able to sit up for a time each day. Mr. Ballard's head was injured and he received a severe gash near one eye when the machine in which he was riding crashed against a tree.

Burial was in Westfield cemetery. The bearers were Arthur W. Lague, Carl Anderson, Charles App and Philip Roberts, all former members of the national guard, in which Mr. Brown gave service.

Blasting is now of almost daily occurrence at the ledge on Stearns hill and these were plainly heard in Danielson on Friday, as well as a slight jar from some of the heaviest of the discharges. In one blast recently 150 pounds of dynamite were used at the ledge.

From Easter comes a story of a steersman by Byron O. Angell being shot, is assumed, by some hunter. The animal which was an old bull, was badly wounded that it had to be killed and the tag is estimated at $50. In connection with the shooting of the steer mention is made that it has been unable for either man or beast to be in the woods of Foster since the hunting season. The animal is out of employment this fall that many of these have been their time chief to hunting.

Killing's high school's football team achieved a clean-cut victory over the Windham high school team of Williamstown on the Quinebaug ground, 12 to 0, Friday afternoon and the large gathering of spectators of the local team were delighted with the evening made.

The game was the last regularly scheduled for the season. The team may play Thanksgiving day, and gives the team a record of five victories and four defeats during the season.

The Odd Fellows special train that is to leave Putnam at 4:30 for Groton this (Saturday) afternoon is to make stops at Danielson, Central Village and Plainfield. Returning the train is to leave Groton about 11:30 p. m. and will make stops at Plainfield, Central Village and Danielson and Dayville.

Rains of this week and last have largely relieved the water shortage that has existed all through this territory, the shortage having become aggravated in some sections as to cause great inconvenience and alarm, for there was fear about using what was left of the supply in some wells in the only section. At East Killingly, where the borough's supply comes from, there was ample water all through the dry spell, but the bodies of reservoir water there have been much lower than is usual at this time of year.

Many of the members of Rose of Lima council, K. of C., gathered at the council room in Galt's building Friday evening for the smoke talk and social time at which an address was delivered by Rev. Richard P. Morrissy, pastor of St. John's church at Plainfield.

Thanksgiving dinners are not going to cost so much this year as has been the rule for several years past. Among the offerings already noted are young native milk fed turkeys at from 50 to 65 cents per pound and fancy native milk fed chickens at 40 cents a pound. While these prices are not down to pre-war levels they are materially lower than figures quoted during the war years and the period immediately thereafter.

Only a few tickets are held this year by Danielson people for the Yale-Harvard game scheduled to be played at the Harvard stadium today. However, those who are fortunate enough to hold admission cards were happy Friday over the prospect of some of the great gridiron contests of the year.

The Sumner of Blessings and the Thanksgivings Sunday service at the Congregational church in Wauregan tomorrow morning.

Across the line in Gloucester, R. I., James Mann was accidentally shot by Danielson people when the Peckham gun was being tested. The shot had been fired. A considerable number of the crowd entered Mann's legs between the knees and hips, but he was not seriously wounded.

It is of interest to many local people that the Moose hotel has been reopened after having been closed for a long time. The hotel frequently in the past was a convenience to Danielson people who had been in that place.

There are a number of cases of chicken pox among children of the borough, the disease reported to be in mild form. Cases of members of the Mignault family who live near Alexander's lake and who were held at Brookline last likely will not be disposed of until the January term of the Windham county superior court.

Only a few days remain before the ending of the Red Cross roll call drive now underway in Killingly. Many who formerly were members of the Red Cross have not taken out memberships this year, though there is great need of the aid they could contribute by enrolling.

PUTNAM

Mrs. Robert Brownlie, who was injured in an automobile accident in which her husband was less seriously injured, remains as a patient at the Day Kimball hospital. Among the most serious of Mrs. Brownlie's injuries is a broken jaw. This accident occurred last Sunday evening on the Cheshire highway.

The Day Kimball hospital is filled almost to capacity at present. There were 47 patients there Friday and the capacity of the institution is but 53 patients.

The great service that the institution is rendering not only to Putnam but to all of the towns in the eastern part of the county should center the attention of the people on the fact that this is the last day for making the Thanksgiving time offering, which should be more generous than ever this year because the demands upon the hospital are greater.

Four additional fire alarm boxes, the installation of which recently was authorized, are now in place and in working order. The new boxes were recently tested and found to be working satisfactorily. The new boxes furnish additional protection to property in sections of the city where the alarm boxes have not been too plentiful.

Because of injuries to three players of the Plainfield high school team the football game scheduled for Friday afternoon with the Putnam high school team was cancelled.

J. M. Whittlessey, commissioner of domestic animals in Connecticut, is to be the leading speaker at the Windham County Farmers' association annual meeting December 2. Mr. Whittlessey has been high in his compliments on the splendid showing that has been made in Windham county toward cleaning up tuberculosis in cattle. It is safe to state, according to Mr. Whittlessey, that Windham county is the cleanest county in the state.

The splendid cooperation the local breeders have shown toward the testing work caused Mr. Whittlessey to promise to leave a Chicago conference before its close, for the purpose of being at the annual meeting. The few dairymen that have known that Mr. Whittlessey might be the annual meeting speaker have hoped that it would be possible for him to be present, and now that he has agreed to come, a large number of dairymen in the county are planning to be present at 1:30 Friday, December 2nd, at Odd Fellows hall, in Putnam.

Remi Delage is reported as a candidate for appointment as captain of police, which appointment will be within the gift of the new common council that will come into office in January. Captain J. H. Bulger is also a candidate to succeed himself in the first year. An adequate supply of turkey and chicken is assured for Thanksgiving dinners in Putnam. There also will be ducks and geese aplenty and on the whole the offerings are expected to be greater than for several years past with prices somewhat lower than has prevailed for some time past.

It was announced Friday that the drive for a $10,000 deficiency fund for the Day Kimball hospital has reached $7601, a figure that is highly encouraging to those who have the matter in charge. Pomfret and Woodstock are the honor towns in contributing to this fund, $2900 having been subscribed from Woodstock, and $2441 from Pomfret. Since the drive was opened a few weeks ago, Thompson people have subscribed $900, while Putnam is credited with $787. As yet no report of subscriptions has been made from the towns of Killingly, a town that is expected to be recorded as generously represented in the final figures for the drive. Included in the larger personal gifts is one of $500 from Mrs. Norman D. Ream of Thompson.

Pupils in Putnam's schools are to figure in the creation of a fund contributed by school children of the United States and to be presented to Marshall Pock in their name, for building two high schools in devastated sections of France. Up to Friday $14.92 in small amounts had been contributed by Putnam school children. Of this amount $4 came from the high school, $9.92 from the Israel Putnam school and $1.41 from the Smith street school.

A Word to the Wives will be Rev. John C. Sordard's subject at a Thanksgiving Sunday service at the Baptist church tomorrow morning. In the evening the pastor's subject will be Bringing in the Sheaves.

Honn of Pomfret are to leave for Washington early in December and will remain there with Dr. Alerton Cushman, before sailing in February for Greece.

Miss Elva Cornyn, who has been employed as a member of an office force in this city and whose home is in Danielson, has entered a private hospital in Providence to take a course of training. Putnam will be represented by a delegation at the Yale-Harvard game in Cambridge this (Saturday) afternoon.

Hunters who have been out in force all the fall will again go into the woods this (Saturday) for one of the last week-end trips of the present open season, which has been a good one for the sportsmen.

Quantities of cord wood, larger than have been used here for years are being hauled into Putnam from the surrounding country every day. Many are buying cord wood in preference to coal, which remains at the high prices established toward the end of the war.

As has been their custom for years in this city, the members of the Salvation Army will create a fund with which to purchase Christmas dinners for the needy of this city.

Motorists here are delighted with the fact that there has been another cut of 20 per cent. in the price of tires, bringing even the cord types down to prices that seem remarkably reasonable compared to charges made up to a year ago.

Trolley patrons going south are now able to make connections at Elmville for East Killingly, under an arrangement just put into effect by the Connecticut company.

Odd Fellows who are going from this city to Groton on a special train this (Saturday) afternoon will get back late tonight.

John A. Howell of Worcester was a visitor with friends in Putnam Friday. Yale is favorite to win today from Harvard in the judgment of the majority of the Putnam followers of football.

No selection of a successor for William L. Macdonald as superintendent of schools in Putnam has as yet been made by the town school committee. There are a number of candidates for the appointment.

New Life for Sick Man

Eatonic Works Magic

"I have taken only two boxes of Eatonic and feel like a new man. It has done me more good than anything else," writes C. O. Frappir.

Eatonic is the modern remedy for acid stomach, bloating, food repeating and indigestion. It quickly takes up and carries out the acidity and gas and enables the stomach to digest the food naturally. That means not only relief from pain and discomfort but you get the full strength from the food you eat. Big box only costs a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.
